

Leadership Series

AALNA has partnered with HIGN to offer a comprehensive leadership series to its membership. Created by HIGN, this series aims to foster leadership skills for nurses across the healthcare spectrum. The goal is to have more nurses serve as drivers of quality care for patients and residents, which ensures positive health outcomes. Upon successfully completing each of the topics, nurses will receive a certificate for 1 hour of Nursing Continuing Professional Development (NCPD) (formerly CEU) from HIGN/NYU. When you have completed all 7 topics, you may submit your certificates to AALNA along with your proof of licensure as an RN or LPN. You will receive certification by AALNA as a Certified Clinical Nurse Leader (C-CNL) This will be renewable every 4 years with a fee of $75 to AALNA and the completion of 20 NCPD hours.

Learn more: <https://bit.ly/HIGNLeadershipSeries>

Leadership Series

HIGN's Leadership Series aims to foster leadership skills for nurses across the healthcare spectrum. The goal is to have more nurses serve as drivers of quality care for patients and residents, which ensures positive health outcomes.

Courses & Webinars

Strategies for Effective Leadership in Nursing

What is the difference between leadership and management? Learners will explore what matters most to them and how these values contribute to their leadership style and abilities.

Relational Work: The Core of Leadership

This webinar explores the complex skill of creating, sustaining and effectively managing relationships, allowing an effective leader to accomplish goals and desired outcomes

Managing in Times of Crisis

Using the coronavirus pandemic as a framework, we explore the critical role of the leader in managing chaos, complexity and uncertainty.

Creating a Culture of Respect and High Performance

We explore incivility, from rudeness to bullying, its role in creating an unsafe workplace, and its effects on patient care and organizational resources.

Shared Decision Making

Three important elements are explored: communication, the resident/patient having self-determination, and staff being empowered to make decisions within their scope of practice.

Managing Up and Across

Learners will value the importance of looking beyond oneself to appreciate and adapt to people with different perspectives, priorities, and personalities.

Strategies for Effective Communication in Nursing

This course reviews different communication styles and emphasizes the importance of good team communication.

Learn more: <https://bit.ly/HIGNLeadershipSeries>

Leadership Series

Leadership Series

~~$200.00~~

Discount code applied! Remove

$160.00

PURCHASE

This Product Includes

Accessing the Series

Prior to accessing the series contact Calvin Groeneweg at calvin@alnursing.org to receive the AALNA MEMBERS ONLY discount on the series. Once you have received the code go to the website <https://bit.ly/HIGNLeadershipSeries> and click to purchase the course. Create an account in our eLearning system, ConsultGeri, with your unique email and password and finally select “purchase” to enter your credit card information to complete the purchase.

Learn more: <https://bit.ly/HIGNLeadershipSeries>

